Select Poetry.

HAS FATHER BEEN HERE?

BY E. W. LOCKE.

"Please, Mister Bar keeper, has father been here?
He's not been at home for the day,
'Tis now almost midnight, mother's in fear,
Some accident keeps him away."
"No, no, little stranger—or, yes, he's been here,
Some officers took him away;
He's gone to the lock-up, I'm sorry my dear
He's done something, they say."

CHORUS.

Oh, 'twas not my father who did the bad deed,
'Twas drinking that maddened his brain,
Oh! let him go home to dear mother, I plead,
I'm sure he'll not touch it again.

"Please, Mister Policeman, my father is lost,
A man says you took him away,
Oh! can't he go home, sir, and what will it cost
If mother will rend you the pay?"
"Oh! no, little pleader, your father can't go,
We put him in prison to-day,
Go home to your mother and quick let her know
What's keeping your father away."

"Please, sir, Mr Jailor, please let me go in,
They say that my father's inside,
I scarcely can tell how unhappy we've been,
We could not feel worse had he died;
Please, sir, it was drinking that made him do wrong,
I'm sure, sir, he will drink no more.
Oh! just a few minutes, a minute's no long,"
But no one would open the door.

All day the young watcher stood fast by the door,
In vain with his father to speak;
It creaked on its hinges twice ten times or more,
As prison doors only can creak;
Then speeding thro' darkness to home, sad as death,
A promise most solemn he bore
Dear mother, I'll shun it as long as I've breath,
I'll taste, it, and touch it no more.

CHAPTER V.

Camp No 19—Hogans House—Rain storm—Fair Oaks—Passage of the Chickahominy—Birthplace of Patrick Henry—Camp No 20—Picketing in Front of Richmond—Our Fortifications—Affair of Battery—Health of the Army—Our Confidence in our Success—Great Popularity of Maj Gen McClellan.

Upon our arrival at the Chickahominy, we encamped in an orchard, hid from the view of the enemy by a woods, which extended almost to the river. While here, we heard the guns of Porter, in his engagement near Hanover Court House, in which the enemy were driven from the field, and their wounded fell into our hands. The buildings about the farm house near which we encamped, were occupied as hospitals for their wounded, who maintained, in most cases, a stolid indifference to their fate, though apparently surprised at their humane treatment For, as yet, the soldiers of the rebel army were very ignorant of the character of the Union troops, looking upon them as demons, and fighting with desperation to prevent falling into our hands. Could all the misconceptions of our characters and purposes in the prosecution of this war be dispelled as effectually as this first one, charging us with cowardice and barbarism, less difficulty would attend the establishment of peace and Union, for the mass of our enemies, though ignorant, and as a consequence cruel, and even barbarous, are, after all, honest, but mis-guided men, persuaded that they are fighting for their own liberties, and for the same rights that our common fathers defended with their blood in the first struggle for our nationality.

Soon after our arrival at Camp No. 19, we were ordered to Hogan's House, to support a battery covering a crossing of the Chickahominy, at New Bridge. The Fourth Michigan had driven the rebels over the stream, after a sharp skirmish, and measures were being taken to secure possession of the crossing. A number of rebel wounded who had been left on the field in their hasty retreat over the river, were brought to Dr. Hogan's House. The Doctor had left the place with his family, previously, but returned to look for his son among the wounded. It seemed a vivid picture of the nature of our civil war, to see this old man looking among the wounded, in his own house, for a son, supposed to have fallen in the fields he had cultivated, and on the meadows where he had roamed, and by the stream, whose fishes had furnished him, doubtless, with many a holiday's amusement. He was not among the wounded, however; and if alive, was probably watching his foes, at out his old home, from the opposite side of the river. If there was nothing more than their unrighteous cause to deaden our sympathy for such men, that were enough; but when we recollect that this same Dr. Hogan took, and subscribed, the oath of allegiance to the United States, in order to secure payment for several hundred bushels of corn seized by our troops, and afterwards, though a Physician, refused any aid to the wounded men of the comrades of his sons, when urged to render them some assistance, what at first appears like romantic and heroic sufferings, becomes natural and deserved retribution, and the homesteads whose hearthstones are polluted with treason and defiled by perjury, find their true fate in their own ashes. In this case, however, as was the general practice at this time, no damage was done, or allowed to be done, any description of private property, so far as could be avoided

The writer of this record was detailed, with a full guard, to protect what property was left by Dr. Hogan, in and about his house, and I can assure the weak kne'd of our friends, that I strictly obeyed the very particular orders of our Colonel, and allowed not even a strawberry to be taken from this perjured Rebel's garden, at least not by daylight. However, I allowed the Colonel to use one room as headquarters, and actually did "gobble up" a sugar bowl which did service on the right side during the war.

On the night of May 30th, we were visited by a most terrific rainstorm, accompanied by thunder and lightning.—A portion of the regiment, with the writer, were on picket on the banks of the river, and were driven to the high lands by the great and sudden rise in the stream, which overflowed all the low lands. The lightning was so glaring and incessant as to be painful to the eyes, and render locomotion, in any direction, almost impossible. The thunder was like a constant roll of the heaviest artillery. The storm continued with unabated fury nearly the entire night, and several of the pickets who delayed their retreat from the river bank, very nearly escaped drowning, while three were knocked down at their posts by concussion arising from a stroke of lightning close to them. No one in the regiment could recollect having ever before witnessed so terrible a storm of rain, nor have we seen its equal since. Next day, about noon, the booming of guns and rattle of musketry told us, in unmistakeable language, that a battle was in progress on the south side of the river Taking advantage of the freshet in the river, the enemy had attacked Casey's Division at Fair Oaks, and the struggle was being carried on in our hearing, though our comrades were beyond our aid. Almost constantly during the entire afternoon, the firing continued, and was at times so heavy that the musketry firing at Fair Oaks has been ever since a sort of standard by which we describe the extent of an engagement. By reason of the freshet, and the distance to a bridge, or practicable crossing, no attempt was made to move us to the South bank, and for the same reason the affair had very nearly proved disastrous to our troops South of the river, when those who were nearest the bridge came to their assistance, and succeeded in checking the advance of the enemy.—Next day, strengthened by reinforcements, our troops drove the rebels back in confusion to the very gates of Richmond, and there are many who believe that, at this time, that city was within our grasp.

Next day, after the battle, we were ordered to move to the South side of the Chickahominy, by way of a bridge constructed by our troops several miles down the river, and christened "Tammany," by its builders, the New York Tammany regiment. As an illustration of the character of the country on the Chickahominy, it is only necessary to inform the reader that this bridge was one mile long, while the stream proper was about fifty yards, the remainder being swamp. Sickness began to invade our camps about this time, and our regiment was not exempt from the usual fate. When we crossed the river, a number of our men were left behind at Liberty Hall Hospital. This was a large house, said to be erected on the site of the birthplace of Patrick Henry of Revolutionary fame, and was soon filled with the victims of a war for liberty, in comparison with which, our father's struggle, which Henry so eloquently urged, seems almost to sink into insignificance—would, had it not been for so glorious a cause, and fought with such distinguished courage in the midst of calamity, and, apparently, without hope. How many a spot, sacred in the annals of our past history, has treason caused to be desecrated by the rude hand of war!

Having crossed the Chickahominy river, we marched to a point to the right of, and close by the Fair Oaks Battle-field, and went into camp. The earth was so saturated with water, even at this time, and on the highest ground, that horses mired in it at almost every point. We called this Camp No. 20, and also Camp Near Richmond, Va. It was laid in regulation order, swept clean daily, the officers quarters and company streets shaded with green boughs, laid on a framework of poles, renewed often enough to secure all from the effects of the sun; wells were dug, which supplied a better quality of water than the natural springs, and every effort made to get as much comfort as could be extracted out of our situation. We were deficient in nothing, except perhaps that degree of camp craft, we have since had enough opportunities to acquire. Our duty here as pickets was not arduous, but dangerous and exciting. Sometimes, on terms of truce, our men conversed freely with the opposing pickets, meeting for that purpose in the midst of the little patch of wheat, which alone seperated us. Here, on this neutral ground, were many mementoes of the several parties interchanged. Friendly pipes were smoked, and peaceful cups of coffee drank in temporay amity; and here, afterwards, war fought between these same opposing men, a stubborn battle, for the possession of the wheat field, where they had met as friends for weeks. Yet, at all times, there was danger of misunderstandings, and frequent spiteful skirmishes, between the lines before we had come to a perfect understanding, and several men from the regiment were killed by sharpshooters on this memorable picket line, scarce five miles from Richmond. While at Camp No. 20, we built a line of rifle pits, covering our front, not very formidable nor extensive. One redoubt was erected on Golden's farm, on the bluff, not far from the Chickahominy. The general impression prevailing that the time spent in front of Richmond was occupied in fortifying, is very erroneous, as we did very little of it, at least on our portion of the line, compared with what we might have done if we had expected to be put on the defensive, of which we never then thought for a moment. Why this long delay to attack, after the fight of Fair Oaks, it would be difficult to determine, as the question is one of partisan dispute, but certain it is, it was not for the purpose of fortifying, for we did not fortify to any extent, until fighting had actually began, and whatever other charge may be substantiated against Gen. McClellan, a too free use of the spade in front of Richmond was not one of his faults. As for the delay, however, we have no means of explaining that.

While in front of Richmond, two patent breech-loading guns, mounted on wheels, were furnished the regiment.—They were loaded and fired with great rapidity, by turning a crank, but being complicated, did not work well, and ended their career with our first engagement in front of Richmond. The men named them the "Coffee Mill Battery," and soon added a dozen other cognomens when they were pronounced failures.

The health of our men began to suffer greatly while at Camp No. 20, probably as much from inactivity, as from the effects of unwholesome water, and peculiar climate. The very hot, dry weather, which succeeded the great rains of May, however, did undoubtedly increase the miasma usually found in such regions, and fevers succeeded. It is a fact, learned by subsequent experience, that the health of the army is always better on a campaign than when in camp.

Nevertheless, though numbers of our comrades left us sick, and many died, we were not discouraged, but had all confidence in our ultimate and speedy success. We fully expected to attack the enemy within a very brief time, and confident we could drive them into Richmond and possess the city.

Gen. McClellan's popularity was unbounded, and his ability, at that time, unquestioned, at least in his army.—Whenever he rode about the camps, men hurried to the roadside to cheer him, as he passed, and catch a view of the Chieftain, in whom was our trust, and in whose hands so much of our own and our country's cause depended. Trusting him implicitly, believing in the righteousness of our cause, confident in each other, the Army of the Potomac, unwearied, though after some marching and fighting; patient, even after some delays, confident still, after some disappointments, awaited the expected conflict, when they hoped to drive the enemy out of his stronghold and Capital, and held themselves in constant readiness in their camps until the memorable twenty-seventh of June; and then the conflict came, for our enemies, anticipating our advance, themselves commenced the attack. But of this, and our part in it, in another chapter.

IMMEDIATELY after our last snow storm, the following was prepetrated by a new beginner in the poetic line:

"Softly, softly, while we slept,
Came the snow flakes gently down,
Came and sorrowfully wore
A shrowd of white for the buried town;
We rose with feelings grand and intense,
And hired a middle-aged Anglo-African shovelist to clean our side-walk off, for fifty cents."

To learn to read the following so as to make good sense is the mystery:

I thee read see that me,
Love is up will I'll have
But that and you have you'll
One and down and you if.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 12, '69.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—I suppose by this time the fact that considerable new material has entered into the composition of the Cabinet, is pretty well understood.

Hon. Hamilton Fish, of New York, is now Secretary of State. Hon. Geo. S. Boutwell, of Mass., Secretary of the Treasury, and Gen. John A. Rawlins, of Illinois, Secretary of War. The causes of these changes are easily explained.—The delicate health of Mr. Washburne forbade his undertaking the amount of labor devolving on the Head of a Department. The law of 1789 rendered Mr. Stewart ineligible, although at one time the repeal of the particular disqualifying section seemed probable, and the retirement of Gen. Schofield was of his own accord, he having no desire to remain in charge of the War Department for a longer period than would manifest to the country that he did not lack the confidence of the new President

I will not dilate upon the qualifications of the new appointees, as each of them has a national reputation. Suffice it to say that the Cabinet, as at present constituted, appears to give general satisfaction; or, at least, those who are not perfectly satisfied, seem disposed to allow the wisdom of the appointments to be judged by the logic of events. This is as it should be, for the American people should not forget that during the whole of his military career, General Grant made few, if any mistakes, in the choice of his men While we would not be classed among hero-worshipers, still less would we desire to rank with those who grumble merely to avoid being suspected of hero worship.

A reception and supper, tendered to the Hon. John Scott, U. S. Senator, by the Pennsylvania Republican Association, was the occasion of a very pleasant gathering last evening. As an account of the proceedings might interest some of your readers, I make no further apology for entering into a brief description of the same.

The Association met at its Hall, about 8 o'clock, P. M., and headed by the splendid Band of the 5th Cavalry, proceeded to the parlors of the "Kirkwood House," to which Senator Scott had already been conducted by the Reception Committee. The Chairman formally welcomed, Mr. Scott, who replied briefly that he appreciated the compliment tendered him—that he realized the duties and responsibilities devolving upon him by virtue of his election to the Senate, and that he should endeavor to discharge the same with integrity and fidelity.—The members of the Association were then severally presented, after which the company, numbering about two hundred, and including a respectable share of the Congressional delegation, as well as other men of note, adjourned to the supper room to partake of the good things, the getting-up of which is our friend King's forte. Ample justice having been done to the viands, the Chairman announced the usual first toast "Our Guest," to which Mr. Scott responded at length, commenting on the natural advantages of Pennsylvania, her prominent position among the States, and her devotion to the Union during the rebellion. Referring to National affairs, he believed that, while it was proper to extend mercy to repentant rebels, it would have been but right to have made manifest the power of the Government to administer justice. In speaking of our foreign relations, he said that the ruling powers of England were against us in our late struggle, and that it would take more to efface this fact from the memory of the American people, than mountains of roast beef, and puncheons of wine lavished upon our Ministers in official dinners His remarks were enthusiastically applauded.

2nd toast—"Simon Cameron." (Applause.) Mr. Cameron was not present.

3d toast—"The 16th District—one which Maryland repeaters cannot control, strive they ever so hardily." Response by Hon. John Cessna, who spoke of the necessity of harmony in the three co-ordinate branches of the Government, the enactment of adequate Registry Laws, and the exclusion from places of profit and trust, of all who are false to the principles of liberty and law.

4th toast—"The Congress of 1816."—Response by Hon. Andrew Stewart, ("Tariff Andy,") the oldest living person who served in Congress.

5th toast—"The 18th District." Response by Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, who set forth, in an eloquent manner, the inexhaustible resources of the State, and foretold her continued growth in wealth and prosperity, provided her interests could be protected from competition with the pauper-labor of Europe. The practical benefits consequent upon a judicious system of tariff legislation were ably discussed, and the hearty applause which greeted the speaker showed that the great industrial classes of Pennsylvania are still sound on the Tariff.

6th toast—"John Covode—the terror of official wrong-doers." Response by Mr. Covode in his usual happy vein, giving several interesting reminiscences.

7th toast—"The 40th Congress." Response by Hon. Geo. V. Lawrence.

8th toast—"The 19th District." Response by Hon. C. W. Gilfillan.

9th toast—"The 24th District." Response by Hon. J. B. Donley.

10th toast—"The 22nd District." Response—letter from Gen J. B. Negley.

11th toast—"Pennsylvania Association." Response by Col. A. S. Fuller, President.

12th toast—"The Pennsylvania Soldiery." Response by Gen'l Blakely.

13th toast—"The Loyal Women of Pennsylvania," and

14th toast—"Thaddeus Stevens," were drank standing, and in silence.

As the toasting was all done in cold water, no one was the worse for his many potations, and at a late hour the meeting adjourned, all going home highly satisfied, and with a determination to make an annual "Pennsylvania Reunion" a settled fact for the future.

The Pennsylvania Republican Association meets on the evening of the first Saturday in each month, at No 481, 9th Street, West. All Pennsylvanians visiting the city are cordially invited to attend its meetings. Its officers for the present half-year are, President, A. S. Fuller, of Fayette county; Vice-Presidents, A. A. Shissler, of Northumberland, D. R. B. Nevin, of Cumberland, and D. S. Keller, of Centre; Cor. Secretary, W. A. Short, of Allegheny; Treasurer, Thos. McNamara, of Blair, and an Executive Committee of twenty four members, of whom two, at present, hail from Centre, viz: Mr. Daniel Welch, of Bellefonte and Roland B. Kenne, Esq., of Milesburg. The cultivation of social relations among the Pennsylvanians temporarily resident in this city, and the advancement of the principles of the Republican party, constitute the objects of its formation, and it is hoped that the moral support of its friends at home will, in the future, as in the past, be extended to it.

The Senate declined acting upon the majority of the nominations, military as well as civil, sent in by the late President during his last few months of official existence, and consequently the bulk of these fall to the ground. No doubt such of the military nominations as were of really meritorious men will be renewed. In this class may justly be ranked that of Lieut Col. and Bat. Maj. Gen'l L. C. Easton, Deputy Quarter Master General, to be Assistant Quarter Master General, with the rank of Colonel. Gen'l Easton was Sherman's Chief Quarter Master on the Atlanta Campaign, and also on the famous march to the Sea, and this recognition of his services is well deserved. The principal military nominations so far by the new President are, Sherman to be General, Sheridan to be Lieu't General, Schofield to be Maj. General, and Augur to be Brig. General. They were all promptly confirmed.

One of Johnson's last acts was the retirement of Gen. Brice, Paymaster General, and one of President Grant's first acts was his restoration. About the same time, J. M. Binckley, at one time celebrated as Assistant Attorney General, and Wholesale and retail dealer in elastic opinions, warranted to suit any turn of mind desired, and who, more lately, in the character of Solicitor of the Internal Revenue Bureau, did not discover the whiskey frauds in New York city, received his quietus. We hope the example set in this quarter will be followed in others. Let the good work go bravely on until every nook and corner of the Augean stable be thoroughly purified.

The Constitutional Amendment.

The Amendment to the U. S. Constitution has passed the State Senate by a strict party vote; it is now being debated in the house. Abel speeches have been made pro. and con. It is well enough for the members to discuss the question fully, but we dislike the delay occasioned by it. The people are ready for the question, and desire their servants in the House to ratify the amendment without unnecessary delay.

The opposition of the Democratic party to this measure only proves that they are retrograding, and are anti-progressive. Years ago, when democracy meant something, when it was a liberty-loving party, when it advocated equal and exact justice to all men, freemen of color voted in all the old States. This right to vote was conferred upon them by the fathers and founders of the Government, and no objection was ever made to it until the Democratic party became aristocratic —false to its honor, its character, its position—and was swallowed up by, and made the supplient tool of, the Southern slave driver.

The Watchman, and every other Copperhead paper in the State, are raising the hue and cry of the unfairness of the manner of submitting the amendments. They say that it should be submitted to the votes of the people. These Editors know, just as well as we, that this is all bosh. The Constitution of the United States does not provide for that method of amendment. It provides that the Legislatures of three-fourths of all the States are sufficient at any time, and all that is required to change or amend the U. S. Constitution. This Consititutional method of amending the Constitution has been strictly adhered to by the Congress of the Nation, and the amendment is, therefore, before the State Legislatures for ratification. But the Copperhead leaders are never satisfied with anything that is done in accordance with the Constitution. When Grant whipped their rebel brethren under Lee, and caused them to surrender, and promise to obey the Constitution, and the laws of the land, these Copperhead leaders said it was unconstitutional, and wrong, to coerce such gentlemanly fellows, and such good citizens and Democrats as were these rebel scoundrels who sought to destroy the Government. There is no use, gentlemen. The dye is cast. You may just as well keep quiet, because the people have no confidence in you—in your party—your honesty, or your professions. You know this as well as we do. Congress understands this, and the triumphant majority given to Gen. Grant last fall, abundantly proves it. So that Congress, in proposing this amendment to the Constitution, and the Legislatures of the different States in ratifying it, are only ratifying and endorsing the well defined wishes and desires of their constituents, the people of the United States, and letting the Copperheads down easy.

This, by the way, as Mr. LINCOLN was wont to say, reminds us of a little story. A pious old negro, saying grace at the table, not only used to ask a blessing upon his board, but he would also petition to have some definite dish supplied.

One day it was known that Cato was out of potatoes, and suspecting that he would pray for some at dinner, a wag provided himself with a small measure of the vegetables, stole under the window, next which stood the table of our colored christian. Soon Cato drew up a chair and commenced:

"Oh, massa Lord, will dow in dy provident kindness condescend to bress eberything before us and be pleased to bestow on us a few taters—and all de praise—"

(Here the potatoes were dashed upon the table, breaking plates and upsetting the mustard pot.)

"Dems 'em, Lord," said Cato, looking with surprise, only just luff 'em down a little easier next time."

The amendment will of course be ratified, and de coled bredren throughout the whole country will pray de Lord to luff de Democrats down easy.

OFFICIAL ORDERS—TAKE NOTICE.—Postmaster General Cresswell has issued an order declaring that from and after the 31st day of March the commisions of all special agents of the Post Office Department, other than those under pay and assigned to duty in prescribed districts in the several States and Territories will be revoked; and notice is also given that the commissions of all special agents retained in the service of said Department will expire on the 31st day of December next, and must then be renewed. Notice is also given that all applications for clerkships, whether by males or females, or for special agencies, route agencies, local agencies, or postal clerkships, must be filed with the clerks in the Department. None will be received by the Postmaster General.

WE learn from a dispatch to the Harrisburg Telegraph that President Grant was quite indisposed on Saturday last. No visitors were admitted to the White House. The incessant labors since his inauguration have been too much for him.

Why Not?

We want a change in the Register and Recorder's office but we desire a still greater change than that. We want the office divided. In this department there are three separate and distinct offices, to wit: Register of Wills, Recorder, and Clerk of the Orphan's Court. These are all held by one man. When our county was young, and sparcely populated, this was well enough; but now, when our county contains from 56,000 to 60,000 inhabitants, it is not right, and there is no reason which can be urged for its continuance.

As these offices, now held by one man, are salaried, or rather paid at per centum rates on the work done, the suggested division, or change, could make not one cent of difference to the tax payers, but would be an advantage in every way. It now requires two men, constantly, to do the work of the office. Why should one of them be a clerk, while the other reaps the profits? In other counties, not so populous as Centre, these offices are separated. We want them divided here. Let us have a law to that effect. Let one man be elected to fill the office of Register of Wills, and Clerk of the Orphan's Court, and another to fill the office of Recorder of Deeds. This is fair and Democratic. Who can object, especially when it does not increase the expense to the taxpayer?

With the Bellefonte and Lewisburg Railroad completed, it will not be five years until our population in the county will be doubled, and fully one-half of all the property in the county will change hands. The result will be, if the office remains as at present, three or four clerks, while some favorite of the "Court House clique" will hold the office, and become, not only independently rich, but independently impudent.

Here is work for P. G. MEEK, the Representative of Democracy, from this county (for he does not represent the intelligent, or Republican element) to do. Will he do it? Dare he do anything to which the "Court House clique," or any portion of it, would object? Dare he attempt to offer one bill, or ask for the passage of one law that will benefit the people, and aid in breaking up Court House monopolies? We will see.

Certain it is that he has done nothing yet to earn the money paid him as Representative, nor any thing for the benefit of the people of the county.—If he were honest in what he says in the Watchman about extravagance, or if he had any conscience at all, he would resign and come home, refusing to take any pay for his services in mis-representing our county.

He can, in our estimation, redeem his character, to some extent, by offering, without delay, a bill to divide the Register and Recorder's office in Centre county. The Republicans intend to carry the county next fall, and therefore we wish this monopoly broken up. We want to elect one candidate for Register of Wills; one candidate for Recorder, &c.; and so on to the end of the chapter. In view of these facts, we appeal to you, P. G. MEEK, to do one honest, disinterested act—to pass one law that will benefit the whole people.

WORTHY OF THOUGHT.—The effects of protection and free trade are aptly contrasted by Mr. Carey in one of his letters in refutation of some of the statements contained in the report of Mr. Wells. He makes the following allegations, and challenges successful contradiction: British free trade almost crushed out the great iron manufacture in the period from 1817 to 1824; paralyzed it in that from 1835 to 1842: and did the same in that from 1840 to 1860. American freedom of commerce, resulting from protection against the "warfare" of British "capitalists from 1824 to 1833; did the same from 1842 to 1848; and has doubled it since 1861. British free trade never permanently added a single ton to the iron production in the whole thirty years of its existence. American freedom of commerce has added 1,500,000 tons in the less than twenty years that the country has been ruled by the tariffs of 1828, 1842 and 1861.

DEMOCRATS RANT IN VAIN.—Democratic acerbity says the Press has been greatly intensified by Grant's signing of the bills to increase the public credit and to secure civil rights to all the citizens of the District of Columbia. This purely patriotic and Republican action on his part cements him closely with his party and makes of him a true Executive exponent. It will endear him to the people, whose confidence has remained unshaken despite the attempts of Democratic journals to impair it. We cannot much wonder, however, at the agony of Democracy, for on the heels of this action of the President comes the announcement that the new Secretary of the Treasury is hopeful, and with prompt collection of the revenue will rapidly pay off the public debt. This must be alarming indeed; for since the "nigger" has reached the estate of man and citizen, Democracy has had no pabulum for prejudice except what little it could find in attacks upon the national credit.

THE HONEST DEMOCRACY.—A Terra Haute (Indiana) paper says a Democratic bolter, just returned from the State capital, exchanged his cribbed stationery for a plow, and paid for his wife's new dress in postage stamps. The wife of a "resigned" Representative in a Southern county offered, in part payment for a bill of dry goods, $38 in postage stamps, which she said her husband had drawn from the Leg. islature.

The Tenure of Office Law.

There appears to be a dead lock between the President and the Senate on the subject of the Tenure of Office Law. So long as it remains the law of the land, President Grant is sworn to enforce it. The House is almost unanimously in favor of the repeal of the law. The Senate thus far contends simply for its suspension.—In the mean time, Gen. Grant refuses to remove under it, as he is bound to do, any office-holder, except for cause. Holding rightly, we think, that a difference of opinion politically is not sufficient cause under said law for removal. In consequence of this there have been no appointments made, except a few to fill vacancies.

Senator Schurz, of Missouri, Scott, of Pa., and several of the other new Senators, made able and eloquent speeches on the subject. The latest we have on this subject, is a special dispatch to the Phil'a. Press, on Monday the 22nd inst.:

"It is believed to-night that the vote on the civil tenure act, which will undoubtedly be taken in the Senate to-morrow, will result in the passage of the House bill repealing the law. The mature reflection that has ensued pending the debate of last week has convinced a majority of the Senate that it will be injudicious for them not to do so. Both the House and the President being in favor of its repeal, they are forced to assume a great responsibility if they do not repeal it, and necessarily would render themselves liable to the charge of seeking to retain the control of the patronage of the Government against the wishes of the people and their direct representatives. If the House could be brought to the support of the suspension scheme I think the Senate would reject the bill, but under existing circumstances I do not hesitate to predict that it will pass by a very close vote. At one time it had ten majority in the Senate, but I do not think now that it has more than two or three. It is still the absorbing topic of conversation here, and until it is disposed of no business of any importance will be transacted in any of the departments. Senator Drake's proposition to suspend the law for four years is viewed in the light of an attempted compromise, but I have reason to believe that it would not be accepted by General Grant, and that if the bill is finally sent to him in that shape he will favor the country with his first veto. He proposes to have the law repealed, and if Congress dose not see fit to repeal it now, he will, by a vigorous enforcement of its obnoxious provisions, seek to change the opinion of the Senate regarding it.

Saint Patrick's Day.

We notice in our local columns the procession of St. Patrick's Temperance Society in Bellefonte, on St. Patrick's day. While our Irish fellow citizens were enjoying themselves here, we learn from the N. Y. Tribune, that they were also having a glorious time in that city. The procession numbered about ten thousand.—After giving them some very good counsel in regard to making their celebrations a little more interesting and varied than they generally do, and after some very well-timed and jocose remarks on the way in which the Irish lads and lasses seemed to enjoy themselves on the occasion, the Tribune adds: "Where was ever a more hard-working, industrious, willing, and contented a population than our Irish one! Where was there ever, on the whole, an honester and better tempered one! To-day we will not speak of their faults, and we are glad to say they have them in plenty like the rest of us, for without vices we couldn't have virtues, and shouldn't be human. We give 'em a cordial hand of welcome, and are proud of this hard-fisted, hard-worked band of exiles.—We won't even blame them too much for being Democrats to a man, for as they understand the word it would be strange if they were not, and no credit to them either! When they find out, as they will in time, that the Democracy they swear by here is the same in principle with the aristocracy that made their life at home a curse, and drove them out of their native land to escape starvation, they will come over to the true Democracy that, with Grant as leader, has saved the Republic, the sham Democracy under Lee and Seymour tried to destroy, and they will come to stay.

For ourselves, we do most sincerely believe that, in time, the emigration to this country of Irish in numbers sufficient to influence, as they have done, our manners, our customs, and our politics, will prove of great national service. Their exile from Ireland has already begun to repay the cruel masters of that beautiful island with sterility for her ancient fruitfulness, with famine for her ancient abundance, and with enmity where, if there never was, at least there might have been, the warmest friendship. At present we, in America, see the Irish race suffering under all the faults and drawbacks that have resulted from the blighting rule of English injustice, bigotry, and greed. But the day will surely come when, under the benign influence of institutions really free, with ample means of education, and the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness secured to them not merely by the technical law but by the spirit of the country as well, they will ripen into a generous growth and show all the virtue that is in them and renew under other, but not alien skies, the glories of their earlier day.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.—The author of a communication in the N. Y. Tribune, having complained that the debt of the country is increasing, that paper opposes a flat contradiction of the assertion. The debt, it says, was over $2 757,000,000 on the first of August, and also on the 1st of September, '65; it was but $2,544,336,964 on the first inst. Paid off in three and a half years, of principle, at least two hundred and thirteen millions of dollars. But this is not all. We have more over paid, says the Tribune, immense sums to soldiers as mustering-out bounties, &c., to States for advances in the way of outfit and arms for their volunteers in the war for the Union, &c. The train stopped at Greenville, and the indignant maiden disembarked. She was met by a stalwart brother, to whom she handed the note, at the same time pointing out the spooney author who was standing on the platform. He sprang to the car, seized Alf. by the collar and threw him to the ground, and pummeled him until the train started, when he kindly lifted the crestfallen lover to his feet, and by a tremendous effort placed him on the rear car.

Every parent whose son is away from home or at school should furnish him a newspaper. I well remember what a marked difference there was between those who had and had not access to newspapers. Things being equal, the first were always superior to the last in debate, composition and general intelligence."

GEO. L. POTTER, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, offers his professional services to the citizens of Bellefonte and vicinity. Office removed to house formerly occupied by Mrs. Livingston, on Spring st, two doors South of Presbyterian church.

Local Department.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, March 24, '69.

"F. W. C"—Your communication will appear next week.

PERSONS wishing posters printed, should call and examine specimens at the REPUBLICAN office.

THE Drug Store of F. P. Green will be removed, April 1st, 1869, from Brockerhoff's row, to the new Hotel of Bush & McLain, over the creek. Jan. 20tf.

FOR SALE.—A first class farm, within two miles of Bellefonte, is now for sale. Any person wishing to buy, can learn full particulars, by calling at the office of the Bellefonte Republican.

NEW FISH MARKET.—Our very clever friend, Jerry Tolan, has opened a new fish market, and solicits the patronage of the people of our city. Jerry deserves encouragement, and should have it, We wish him abundent success.

DR. GEORGE L. POTTER.—We invite the attention of our readers to the professional card of Dr Potter. The Doctor is one of our oldest resident Physicians, and has a reputation as a Physician and Surgeon unequalled by any in the country. He has removed to the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Livingston, on Spring Street.

PLEASANT GAP HOTEL.—In another column of the REPUBLICAN will be seen the advertisement of our old friend, Capt. Wm Ickhoff. Having purchased the hotel property at Pleasant Gap, and repaired and refitted the same, he is prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with a call. There are few, if any, cleverer men than Capt. Ickhoff. We wish him success in his new home and business.

A BEAUTY.—D. S. Kochenderfer Esq., near Boalsburg, in Harris tp., is the owner of a fine English horse—a perfect beauty—which all lovers of good horses and stock should go and see. It requires very little more care to raise first class horses, than to raise common scrubs.—The advantage is, that the nimble blooded animal always brings double the price. Farmers, we think, would do well to give a little more of their attention to raising good horses and stock of all kinds.

VENDUE.—Mr. James Kline offers at public vendue, on the 29th of March, at his residence, on Spring st., Bellefonte, Pa., a large lot of personal property, among which is enumerated, one cook stove, nearly new, one good Oriental stove, several setts of chairs, two rocking chairs, one tea-poy, five bedsteads, one mattress, one Grover & Baker sewing machine, one dining table, one bureau, (not the Freedmen's,) and many other articles, almost new. Persons just starting in house-keeping, and others, would do well to attend this sale. The sale will commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., of said day, when terms will be made known.

J. S. PARSONS, Auctioneer

EXHIBITION.—The Pleasant Gap Exhibition Society will give a public session in the M. E. Church at Pleasant Gap, on Saturday eve., March 27, the proceeds to go to the church. We printed the programme, and, judging from the character of the pieces selected, and from what we know of the performers, we can safely say that the entertainment will be interesting, and a rich treat to all who may see proper to attend. It will be a pleasant ride for our Bellefonte people. The cause is a good one; we, therefore, hope that as many of our citizens as possibly can, will favor the exhibition with their presence. Admission 25 cts Children 15 cts. Doors open at 6 P. M. Commence at 7 o'clock.

PUBLIC SALE.—There will be exposed to public sale, on Friday, March 26th at the residence of Samuel Adams, E-q corner of High and Thomas streets opposite the United Brethren church, Bellefonte, Pa., the following described personal property, to wit: One extra cook-stove, one parlor stove, tables, chairs, looking-glasses, pictures and frames, bedsteads, carpeting, crockery and queensware, one diamond sewing machine, one book-case and secretary combined, and a great variety of other articles. Sale will commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., of said day, when terms will be made known. J. S. PARSONS, Auctioneer.

A GOOD WIFE.—We can always tell, says an Exchange, what sort of a woman a man marries, by the way he treats the printer. If he gets a common wife, he forgets the printer altogether. If he gets a tolerably good wife, he will send in the notice of his marriage. If he gets a very good one, he will send the printer a slice of cake accompanying the notice. If he gets an extra good one, he will send a greenback with the notice. And if he gets a glorious, angelic creature—all affection and goodness—he is sure to send the printer a gold or silver dollar with the notice of his happiness. No good wife allows her husband to owe for his paper, and if their worse half does not attend to these things, it is a clear case of deception; because a man that won't pay for his paper, will deceive his wife, and we have our opinion of such.

Centre county can boast of as good and true wives, and of as pretty girls, who would make good wives, as any county in the State; but it never once occurred to us to attribute the great success of the Republican to this source.—some of our subscribers—good, honest fellows—have confessed to us that their wives prevailed upon them to subscribe, and others, no doubt, by subscribing and paying for the Republican, expect thereby to obtain good wives, and thus prosper in business. Women, as a general thing, like intelligent men, and desire their children to be intelligent, and they realize that there is no better educator of the public, or youthful mind than a good family newspaper! Is it any wonder, then, that our Centre county wives insist upon their husbands suscribing and paying for the REPUBLICAN?

IT PAYS.—Last week we advertised a "house to rent." We have had 18 or 20 applicants inquiring for particulars. Will our business men in town and country never be convinced?

A FACT.—It is a fact that the Bellefonte Academy is, under the Superintendence of Prof. Hughes, fast obtaining a reputation worthy the teacher and the town.

NOTICE.—Our subscribers who intend to move, or change their place of residence on the 1st of April, should not fail to give us notice. Persons in town, changing on or before the 1st, should notify us, or the carrier boy, at once.

LEG BROKEN.—A worthy citizen of Moon township, Mr. Isaac Beck, had his leg broken, on Tuesday, the 16th inst.—Mr Beck was on his way to Mr. Sundy's vendue, when his horse stumbled, and fell upon the leg of Mr. Beck, thus breaking it. Dr. McKee was immediately called and set the broken limb. We are pleased to learn that the patient is getting along well under the skillful treatment of Dr. McKee.

SAFE ROBBED.—We learn that the safe in the ticket office at Port Matilda was robbed of about two hundred dollars on Tuesday the 16th inst., while the Agent was at dinner. Mr Way, who has the care of the office, locked both the door of the safe and the office, before going to dinner. How the thief obtained admittance, or managed to open the safe, is yet one of the mysteries of the day. One man was arrested on suspicion, but was released. As yet, there is no clue to the guilty party, or parties.

THE Lewisburg Chronicle says the happy condition of the evenly Union county, is attracting the attention of some of her larger, but less fortunate sisters, who doubtless desire to become equally blessed. The Montrose Republican has been watching our condition, and le s fly to wit:

"Union county on the South-west side of the West Branch of the Susquehanna, (between Sunbury and Williamsport) must be a comfortable place to live in. It has no debt, four thousand dollars in the treasury, tax for county purposes only two or three mills on the dollar, and one township (Kelly) ahead on the next draft. It rarely has any one in jail, and has not had a full week's court in some years. The President Judge (Sam'l S. Woods) inherited nearly a hundred suits on the trial list, but at last Feb term, in Lewisburg, there were only five cases on the list, and Court adjourned on Tuesday. Lawyers there have to become County Treasurers, run farms, or go to Congress to get a living. Union county voted for Jackson, Clay twice, Harrison twice, Taylor, Scott, Fremont, Lincoln twice, and Grant. It has not a Democrat in station, from Judge down, except one Jury Commissioner—poor, lonesome fellow! The county has a University at Lewisburg, a High School at New Berlin, an Academy at Mifflinburg, and also Buffalo Valley, one of the loveliest, richest regions in the Keystone, or any other State. (John B. Linn of Lewisburg is writing the Annals of said Valley.) And yet—so little do many people realize their blessings—many of its best citizens are annually diffusing themselves and their money over the West and —Delaware!

Union county must be a heavenly place, indeed; and all because this sham Democratic party never could obtain power. We are sorry we cannot say so much for our own county. Our jail is rarely empty. Our lawyers are all, or nearly all, getting rich. The first week of our courts are mostly taken up with criminal prosecutions. Our county taxes are high, and our county officials, although some of them are receiving but small salaries, are all getting rich—rich off the tax payers.

Our schools are not as good as they should be; our high schools and academies not as numerous, and we have a constant underhanded opposition to the office of County Superintendent. Our county taxes are 7½ mills to the dollar. And all this because the county has been ruled for years by the sham Democracy. The Republicans controlled the county five years out of seven, from 1854 to 1861. Under their rule, our county tax amounted to only 2½ mills to the dollar. The difference, therefore, between Democratic and Republican rule in this county is 5 mills to the dollar. Yet our Pennsvalley farmers, and Democratic tax payers, pay this increased 5 mills tax, and the Court House clique pulls the wool over their eyes, and keeps them (good honest souls) in the Democratic ranks, by the constant howl of niggs! niggs! niggs! Poor dupes! They should be ashamed to talk of the ignorance of the poor, down-trodden negro. We have not a negro in the county that has not too much good sense to vote for and with a party that imposes upon the people a 7½ mills tax, when everything proves that under the Republicans, the county tax was not half so much.

Tax payers of Centre county, arouse to your true interests! Pause and reflect! Why should our county taxes be so high? How does it come that the taxes in Benner, and in every other township in the county, controlled by Democrats, are higher, and the affairs of said township less economically administered, than in the Republican townships?

Centre county is rich in her mineral and agricultural wealth, and yet she is far behind Union county, and many of our surrounding sister counties, simply because our honest and unsuspecting farmers and tax payers, too many of them, listen to the syren song of the sweet deceivers of the Court House ring. We love our county. We hope for a better and a brighter day. We hope for more Railroads, better free schools, more academies and diminished taxation; but all these blessings can only be realized through the overthrow of the sham Democracy, and the success of the liberal, liberty loving, Union saving, labor protecting, tax reducing, economical Republican party—the greatest and purest party that ever existed in this, or any other country.

REV. J. M. MITCHELL, pastor of the Loretto Catholic Church, was recently presented with a valuable gold watch and chain by the members of the Manchester Catholic Church, of which he was formerly pastor.

THE VELOCIPEDE.—The young men and boys of our young city are having any amount of fun riding the velocipede in Bush's Hall, while Cal. Smith is quietly pocketing the funds. Cal. knows how to ride the animal, and how to make it pay, as well.

IT is noticed that the hogs root up the sod and ground this Spring, more than is usual, wherever they can get a chance at a place free from frost. The prophets say that it is because there are locusts beneath the surface, and that they are coming to this section in swarms the present year.

THE FASHIONS.—Those New York journalists who give attention to the changes of fashion, announce that there will be but a slight, scarcely perceptible change in the bonnet this spring. Its size is not to be disturbed, and those ladies who did not use up their last year's bonnets can now have an opportunity to make them useful for another season without in the least doing violence to the laws of fashion.

HISTORY OF IRELAND.—This was the subject of a lecture delivered by Rev. F. O'Shea, of Loretta, Pa., in the Court House on Wednesday evening, the 17th inst. We were unavoidably absent, and are, therefore, unable to give a report of the lecture. We are, however, happy to state that Rev. T. McGovern has kindly consented to furnish us a full report for our next number. Extra copies containing the report can be had at this office, or at the book store of J. D. Miller.

JUST THE THING.—Persons suffering from that implacable disease, Catarrh, should by all means give Sage's Catarrh Remedy a thorough and impartial trial. It has been before the public but a few years, yet already ranks as the standard remedy for diseases of the nasal and upper air passages, and we hear it very highly spoken of by those who used it. The proprietor, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., as will be seen by his advertisement, offers a standing reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. For sale by most Druggists every where. Sent by mail for sixty cents.—Pontiac Jacksonian

THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER.—Dr. Franklin remarks that a man as often gets two dollars for the one he spends in informing his mind, as he does for a dollar he lays out in any other way. A man eats a pound of sugar, and it is gone, and the pleasure he has enjoyed is ended, but the information he gets from a newspaper is treasured up to be enjoyed anew, and to be used whenever occasion or inclination call for it. A newspaper is not the wisdom of one man or two men; it is the wisdom of the age, and of past ages, too. A family without a newspaper is always a year behind the times in general information; besides, they can never think much, or find much to talk about. And then there are the little ones growing up without any taste for reading. Who, then, would be without a newspaper—and who would read one regularly without paying for it?

LOOK TO YOUR INTERESTS.—Save time and money.

If you have anything to sell,
If you have lost anything,
If you have found anything,
If you have a house to rent,
If you want to rent a house,
If you want boarding,
If you have a farm to sell,
If you want to buy a farm,
If you have hogs to sell,
If you have cattle to sell,
If you have horses to sell,
If you have dry goods to sell,
If you are a professional man,
If you keep a hotel,
If you desire to prosper in business,
advertise in the REPUBLICAN, and thus tell the people what you want. No investment you can make will pay so well

A TERRIBLE DREAM.—A correspondent, and a delinquent patron of the Harrisburg Telegraph has had a terrible dream and gives it in substance to that paper, as follows:

"I dreamed a dream the other night when all around was still; I dreamed I saw old Beelzebub a coming up the hill. My printer's bill was in his ere: says he 'young man, your weasel draw, or else prepare to die.' I gazed old Scotty in the face, and read the only chance to avail myself of saving grace—'twas to pay up in advance."

Are there not others whose slumbers are haunted with similar dreams because they do not pay up? The invitation is still extended.

We sincerely hope that our readers may have pleasant dreams, and to this end, simply as a reminder, we would say that our terms are $2 00 per annum in advance.

OVER-DRESSING.—Butchers, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, usually kill their victims before dressing them. Mothers frequently dress them before killing them. We noticed an innocent little girl, of about five years, in the street yesterday, dressed and pinched within an inch of her life. For health and comfort, she might as well have been in the embraces of an anaconda. But though the pattern was scant, it was a love of a pattern, and the little creature wore a butterfly on her head, and of course it was all right, and she was a darling. How would one manage to have a game of romps, do you think, with such an anatomy of silks, lace and ribbons? One might as well attempt to romp with a fancy show case. We have a law, and a very good one it is, to protect quails. We want another—a law to protect children. If they are afraid the race of quails will be destroyed, what are we to say of children? Why, there are children in this land of ours, where one can see five hundred epitomes of humanity, without seeing a single specimen of an old fashioned, red-cheek, check apron child.

OUR HOUSE.—In another column of the REPUBLICAN will be seen the advertisement of Wm. Brown, proprietor of "Our House," corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets. Mr Brown is a very clever man, and, as will be seen by his advertisement, holds out superior inducements to the travelling community. Mr. Brown is also an excellent auctioneer.

ROBBERS.—We are informed that the money drawers were robbed, and the station door keys at Julian Furnace were stolen recently by some scoundrel at present unknown. The thief succeeded in obtaining six dollars, only.

We also learn that a jewelry store in Lock Haven was robbed of $12,000 worth of goods. One of the thieves was arrested, and most of the goods recovered.

RAIL ROAD. We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement, in another column of the REPUBLICAN, calling a Railroad meeting in Millheim, on the 15th day of April next. We hope that our monied men and farmers along the line will turn out in their strength to this meeting. Let it be a grand—a strong affair. We hope an effort will be made to get the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., some New York Co., or any other company that will go to work in earnest, to aid in building the road.

GUN SMITH.—A few days ago business called us to the room of Theodore Deshner, gunsmith, up stairs in Bush's Arcade. We were astonished to see how well he was prepared to carry on his business, and supply his customers with every thing in his branch of business. He keeps constantly on hand a superior lot of rifles, revolvers, &c. We also saw the celebrated Winchester rifle, which loads at the breech, and will shoot 19 times in a minute. Mr. Deshner is a first class workman. Any of our readers wishing any thing in his line would do well to give him a call.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We received a letter from a friend in Canton, Ohio, who tells us that over two hundred houses have been erected in that place since the first of January last, and that others are being pushed to completion. We wish our beautiful city could be built up thus rapidly.

We understand that Charles McCafferty has contracted for the lumber for ten houses, to be built immediately between Capt. Davis' property, and Shortlidge & Co's lime kilns. The planing mill company have the cellars dug for 10 houses and we have not heard what D. G. Bush is going to do by way of improvement, this summer. There should be two or three hundred houses built this season.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY.—St. Patrick's Temperance Society had a grand procession on Wednesday, the 17th inst. It looked well, and we were really glad to see it. The day was pleasant, and everything passed off orderly and genteel. It was the most orderly and best observed St. Patrick's day we have ever witnessed in this town. All honor to Rev. McGovern, and his efforts in behalf of the cause of temperance, and his fellow countrymen. We understand that the society is rapidly increasing in numbers. May it continue to increase in numbers, strength and influence, until every Irishman in the town is numbered as a member of this society, and thus enabled to realize that the use of alcoholic drinks as a beverage is a soul-destroying curse—a venomous reptile—and as such, should be eschewed and avoided.

SOUTHERN KANSAS.—We received a letter from W. S. Mac Festers, Esq., formerly a resident of this place, from Fort Scott, Kansas. The letter is dated the 15th inst., at which time, he says: "We are having very pleasant weather here. The grass is getting nice and green, so that the stock can live without feed, (except what they pick,) and have been doing so for the last two or three weeks.—The prospect is very promising for a fine crop of winter wheat all over this country, and the farmers are very much encouraged with the prospect. There is no better country anywhere, for stock-raising, than Southern Kansas."

Mr. Mac Festers is engaged in the practice of the law. His address is Fort Scott, Kansas. Persons in Centre co., or Central Pennsylvania, owning land, or having business that they would wish to have attended to, in Kansas, would do well to employ him.

ALTOONA DISTRICT.—The following are the appointments made by the Conference of the M. E. Church, recently held in Danville, Pa:

J. S. McMURRAY, P. E.

Altoona, 1st Charge, A. W. Guyer, 2nd Charge, J. Donahue; Hollidaysburg, G. Warren; Duncansville, R. Mallalieu; Martinsburg, J. W. Leckie; Williamsburg, J. Stine; Logans Valley, J. A. Woodcock; Tyrone, T. Barnett, G. Guyer; Port Matilda, N. L. Clark, W. C. Robbins; Milesburg, E. Butler; Howard, T. F. McClure; Penns Valley, J. W. Haughawout; Bellefonte, J. Mullin; Half Moon, J. W. Cleaver, W. W. Reese; Warrior's Mark, D. Castleman, J. F. Bell; Philipsburg, S. W. Sears; Philipsburg Ct, R. E. Kelly. T. H. Switzer, supplied; Clearfield, W. H. Dill; Clearfield Ct., W. A. Clippinger; Snowshoe, T. Greenly; Curwensville, W. G. Ferguson; Glen Hope, J. W. Buckley, J. B. Moore; New Washington, W. R. Whitney, L. R. B. Rhodes.

W. Earnshaw, Chaplain U. S. Army, member of Warrior's Mark Quarterly Conference.

D. Hartman, Temperance Agent, member of the Altoona (2nd charge) Quarterly Conference.

T. M. Reese transferred to Wyoming Conference.

T. Daugherty, transferred to Baltimore Conference, and stationed on North Baltimore Circuit.

J. Parret Mann, transferred to Wilmington Conference.

O. M. Stewart, transferred to St. Louis Conference.

Our former excellent pastor, and faithful minister of Christ, H. C. Pardoe, goes to Carlisle, Penn Carlisle M. E. Church. We congratulate the brethren of Carlisle on this appointment. He will do his part.

THAT PARK.—A park in our romantic city would be very pretty, indeed; and we understand that there are really some few persons in earnest in the matter.—We have no objections to a park; but we protest against the borough fathers having any thing to do with it, if it is to increase the local taxes. They are high enough, in all conscience. Again, we think it all folly to agitate the park question, while our Academy grounds are permitted to stand, a disgrace to the borough, without any trees, except three or four old locusts. First of all, this should be attended to. Professor Hughes is building up a school that is an honor to our city. Why not show him our appreciation of his labors, not only by supporting his school, but in beautifying the Academy grounds. If the borough fathers have no power to levy a tax for this purpose, or if it is inexpedient to do so at present, we would suggest that it be done by voluntary subscriptions.

If the proper effort was made in this direction, by the right men, we have no doubt that 50 or 100 men would, at a day appointed for the purpose, each go to the woods, bring in a nice maple, or other forest tree, and plant it in the Academy grounds. It could all be done in one day. If so, why not do it? This would not increase the taxes upon renters who pay the property tax, and would, in a very few years, add more to the appearance of the town than any $25,000 dwelling that has been erected in the last five years. This would be a park upon a hill. It would be an improvement that could be seen all over town, and from every direction leading into town. Let the Trustees of the Academy lead in this matter, they will find plenty ready and willing to help. We will agree to bring our tree and plant it. After this is done, there could be a fountain or two erected in the Academy park, and three or four gas lights. What more than this would be needed by way of a park?

Jesse Oakley's Soaps.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said:
"Oakley's Soaps are best, I'll buy them,
Sure, 'twill do no harm to try them."

They're no humbug—for all men know,
That they'll wash clothes as white as snow,
The women too, (whom heaven bless,)
For dinner now can wash and dress.

Instead of lab'ring hard all day
With worthless soap—it will not pay;
If you'd save time, three half dimes send
For Oakley's Soap, his "Woman's Friend."

His "Newburg City" now comes next,
"A levy's the price," so says the text
One dime will buy his dirt persuasive,
"New York Chemical Erasive.

Now the last, but not least you'll see,
Is his world renowned "K. C,"
With sand 'tis mixed, the thing I wot
For scouring tinware, pan or pot.

Twelve-and-a-half cents will buy it,
Don't for the world omit to try it,
His Toilet Soaps transparent are,
With ladies all these are 'bove par.

Now don't forget, dear readers all,
In Number Six, Great Bush's Hall,
John and Jake, Hen, Sam and Bill
Sell Oakley's Soaps like all "Sam Hill."

Hints to Housekeepers.

System and forethought are two brain-maidens, who are very essential to good housekeeping. With their assistance the work will be all arranged beforehand, done in its proper order and at the right time. Monday's washing should never (excepting in cases of extreme emergency) be put off till Tuesday; Tuesday's ironing till Wednesday, or Wednesday's "cleaning up" till Thursday. Take Thursday for resting day, and as a preparation for the sweeping and dusting of Friday, and the baking and scrubbing of Saturday. Sunday sho'd be a day of rest for kitchen and parlor. The greater part of the cooking needful for the day can be attended to on Saturday. Surely God taught that lesson when He told the Hebrews to gather a double quantity of quails and manna on that day, to enable them to keep his day of rest. If more than needful was gathered on any other day, they become a mass of corruption; but on the Sabbath they were fresh and delicious as if newly collected.—Gentlemen, who are forced to swallow their dinners in hot haste on other days, enjoy an extra dinner on the Sabbath, and with the aid of our aforesaid brain maidens, it can be well managed. A delicious oyster soup is made in twenty minutes; a cold chicken pie, beefsteak, or mutton pie, pressed cold corned beef, etc., with cold potatoes, sliced and stewed in milk and butter; a cold pudding or pies, will give our husbands an appetizing Sunday dinner, and not detain any one at home. One half hour would prepare the whole, with an excellent cup of coffee to boot,

With the help of our brain maidens, we can also arrange our work so as to save fuel as much as possible. Coals and wood are yearly increasing in cost, and it behooves us to learn to economize in the use of them. Bread "sponged" at night will be ready to bake with that "first fire" which always makes the oven hot in the morning. Fruit should be prepared over night, so that pies or other things can be quickly made and baked immediately after the bread. Hashes for breakfast should be prepared over night; potatoes washed and laid near the stove, so as to be placed in the oven as soon as the fire is built. Dining room and kitchen should be put in order before retiring to rest. Kindlings and whatever is needed for building fires laid ready, and the fire in the kitchen, if coal is used, raked down, so that it can be built up in the shortest possible space of time. This is not only a saving of time in the morning, but will be found useful in case of illness in the night, when a fire is often required at a moment's notice.

It is far greater economy to purchase all groceries in large quantities. Starch and soap should always be purchased by the box. There is an immense saving in hard soap well dried. Take out the bars from the box, and pile up (like corncobs, when used to make playhouses for children) in some warm place: an attic in summer is a fine place to dry it. It is surprising that so many of our housekeepers should be willing to purchase soap in damp bars; they loose full one third of its value. Starch, also, is terribly wasted, when bought by the pound and half pound packages, which are frequently all used at one time, by careless girls who do not understand its properties.

Every family that can possibly find means to do it, or a place to properly keep the articles, should have a store-room and cellar filled with plenty of flour, potatoes, apples, butter, beets, turnips, onions, and fuel to last till summer comes, also a good supply of Indian meal, hominy, farina, etc., sugar, tea, coffee and other staples.—These all bought in the bulk are much lower than by the pound. A box of raisins and a few pounds of currants will be pleasant additions, as well as all kinds of canned fruits. A spice-box well filled is a very desirable addition to a store closet. We believe that a saving of over fifty dollars per year could be made in a family by purchasing all stores in quantities.—Now if this should be expended in books, in ten years one would amass quite a library; and what is more needful for the sustenance of the soul than good books? They are the solace of a good housekeeper, when wearied with the daily routine of household cares; the delight of the young; and the relief of the middle aged from the carking cares of business life? What do we not owe to books?

J.

TAFFY.—As this is the season when candies are in special demand, we give the following receipt for making taffy. When made at home, you may know what you are eating. Melt in a shallow vessel a quarter of a pound of butter, add to it one pound of brown sugar. Stir them together for fifteen minutes, or until a little of the mixture dropped into a vessel of cold water will break clean between the teeth without sticking between them. Any flavoring that is desired, as lemon, pine apple or vanilla, should be added just before the cooking is complete. The taffy when done, should be poured in to a shallow dish, which is buttered on the bottom and edges. By drawing a knife across it when partially cool, it can easily be broken into squares. Molasses may be used instead of sugar, but it is not so delicate.

Boys as Proprietors.

Farmers, let your boys have stock of their own. Yes! boys want to be independent, as well as any body, that is if they are of the right kind. I don't mean to say that if a boy has stock of his own he is independent of everybody and everything, but he will be independent in degree.

If your boy does not take good care of your farm stock, make some bargain with him, by which he can get a pig or some other animal of his own. Let him feed it as he wishes, and do with it as he wishes, and he will certainly give it proper care. When he sees how his pig improves, he will want to have all other stock under his care, to improve in the same way.

Don't give your stock, and then take it away when you please but let him earn it in some way. For instance, give your boy some job to do that is peculiarly unpleasant to him, and he will prize his stock you give him in return for the work, doubly. A boy will feel when he has done this much, that he has got up a round on the ladder which we all have to climb.

Another thing that farmers ought to do in regard to their sons, is to keep them home evenings. Don't let them go to the tavern to learn bad habits, but take more interest in them. Ask their advice in regard to the farm matters. Any body can make home attractive that has a mind to do so.

Every farmer wants to have his children grow up honored and respected. By encouraging them, keeping them at home evenings from bad company, this can be done. Do not be too strict, however, for that is as bad as not being strict enough.—H. N. H., Prairie Farmer.

Turn That Drain.

The one that runs out of your barn yard into the gutter by the highway. It doesn't make much difference which way you turn it, so that it discharges its contents on some part of the farm. Such a leak as that is far more expensive than one in your vinegar, cider or syrup barrel. Turn the one from your sink spout. A good spot to lead that to is in the location of some grape vine or apple tree. The roots of the former will take up everything that is soluble in it, and will give you a cluster of grapes instead, while the leaves will dispose of most of the volatile and offensive grass that will arise. We knew an old farmer East who said he made his sink spout pay his taxes every year. He had an enormous russet apple tree planted within a few yards of the kitchen. On its roots the dish water flowed as often as the family partook of their meals. We generally forget to feed our trees and vines, and too often lose our expected supply of fruit. But by an arrangement of this kind, we make provisions for a constant supply of nutriment.

HOW TO CATCH MICE.—A correspondent of the Journal of Pharmacy says: "Having on several occasions noticed mice in our seed barrels, I bethought me of some method how I might trap the intruders; they having gained entrance by eating through the chime. To kill them with a stick was impracticable, as the little fellows would invariably escape as soon as the lid was raised to any height. I then thought of saturating a piece of cotton with cloroform and throwing it in, then closing the lid. On raising again in a few minutes, I would find that life had almost quite departed. Having on one occasion left the piece of cotton in the barrel, on again returning, found three mice with their heads in close contact with it, and dead. In the evening I saturated another piece, and placed it in the barrel, and on opening it next morning, to my surprise I found nine dead mice."

ORCHARD CATERPILLAR.—This insect "comes and goes"—is abundant in some years, and in others nearly disappears. Where the millers or moths have left their rings or eggs on the shoots of trees, now is the time to destroy them. A practiced eye will see almost at a single glance if there are any on a tree, by a swelling or knob which each one gives to a shoot. Select a dark or cloudy day, or else a day when the sky is entirely clear—avoiding thin bright clouds which will dazzle the eyes—and cut off every shoot which contains the eggs, and commit them to the fire. A single clip of the orchard shears on a pole, will prevent a destructive nest of these depradators next season.

LARGE FRUIT FARMS.—The farm occupied by Mr. Hyde, near Alton, and owned by L. B. Sidway, of Chicago, consists of 400 acres; 100 acres of which are in fruit, planted as follows: 2000 apple-trees, 3000 pear, (2300 of which are standard,) 1500 peach-trees, and ground prepared for 1000 more next spring; 500 cherry, 3000 grapes, one acre of Lawton blackberries; 600 gooseberries, 600 currants. The place is intended exclusively for fruit, no other farm products being raised except for home consumption.

CURE FOR SCRATCHES.—A correspondent of the New England Farmer, cured the worst case of scratches he ever saw by two applications of white turpentine, thoroughly rubbed on.

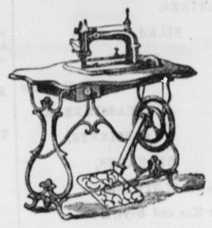
WHEN A COW OR OX gets choked, it is said immediate relief may be obtained by strapping up a fore leg and compelling the animal to jump, when the obstruction will fly out.

We do our farmers not send us articles on agricultural subjects?

MISCELLANEOUS.

AMERICAN BUITON-HOLE OVER SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.

EDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.



In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.

It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.

The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability and enable the company and Agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.

Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine, or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at
